Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Tuesday 14 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Bright with some sunshine and a few showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
Rather cloudy with some patchy rain or showers continuing overnight, especially across the Northwest Highlands. A few clear spells, mainly over Caithness and the Western Isles. Light winds. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Wednesday:
Rather cloudy but a few brighter spells, even a few sunny intervals around . Scattered showers in Northwest Highlamds extending eastwards with a few heavy showers possible in the afternoon. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Dry much of Thursday with sunny spells. Rain and strengthening southerly winds reaching West Coast during evening. Friday and Saturday mainly cloudy, some rain, but west coast brightening up.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.